

Can I make a further loan to pay the transfer or bond costs or to pay the deposit required by the bank which granted me a loan for the purchase price?

No. The bank will normally not allow this. The bank would typically require you to have the funds available in cash for the costs and the deposit.

Volker Krüger